ABOUT

In our region, there are many organizations dedicated to introducing students to STEM education, but synHacks is the only nonprofit helping students gain the practical skills necessary to thrive in the tech industry and apply their talents to solve real problems. synHacks is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization run by students, serving students with a mission to empower passionate youths to tackle current global issues through computer science by providing industry mentorships and inspiring hackathon experiences. This July, we are organizing our first virtual hackathon, "Hack the World" centered around five pillars: sustainability, health, education, inequality, and humanitarianism. The projects developed at Hack the World will not only represent the talents of our nation's students, but they will also demonstrate our generation's approach to solving our world's most pertinent issues.

SPONSOR BENEFITS

Hack the World is an excellent opportunity for companies to be involved with the next generation of innovative developers, designers, leaders, and their solutions to global issues. You will be able to connect with numerous future customers, leaders, and software developers. Hack the World is an excellent place to evaluate the true character and ability of our participants as they develop their projects. Additionally, by hosting a workshop led by a company representative, you will not only have the opportunity to showcase your product/service, but will also aid in creating a collaborative environment that will facilitate better connections between your company and our participants.

At the synHacks team, we strive to connect organizations like yours with talented and driven student hackers to bring about positive change in the world.

We cannot wait for you to join synHacks for Hack the World 2020!

Thank you so much,
The 2020 Hack The World Team
